Unemployment benefit and applying for full-time employment

In order to receive unemployment benefits from an unemployment fund or Kela, you must apply for full-time employment during the entire duration of your unemployment or lay-off. This applies to all job seekers, including those who are unemployed, laid off, working part time, on a shortened work week, or on sick leave. However, if you are receiving a disability pension as a partial pension, you are entitled to unemployment benefits even if you are not applying for full-time employment.

The option that best describes your situation

I'm looking for full-time employment. In order to receive my unemployment benefits, I am prepared to accept the work offered.

I'm not looking for a full-time employment. For this reason, I am not entitled to unemployment benefits paid by an unemployment fund or Kela.

I'm the recipient of a disability pension as a partial pension. In order to receive my unemployment benefits, I want to apply for and am prepared to accept part-time work.

Are you going to apply for an unemployment benefit?

Yes, I am applying for an unemployment benefit. The payer of the unemployment benefit is _____

No, I am not applying for an unemployment benefit

Change in your job search situation

This change can be related to e.g. starting a job or your studies, family leave, or military service.

No, my job search situation will not change in the next month.

Yes, my job search situation will change in the next month.

Reason for the change: _____

Start date of the change: _____

Will you continue your job search after the change? Yes No

4. Work experience and education
